Recalls Belknap Case.

Mr. Palmer (Pa.) recalled the impeachment of Secretary of War Belknap, which was the first case of impeachment of a cabinet officer. He followed with a solemn warning to the senate to be careful in the trial of Judge Swayne, and not to establish a precedent for the impeachment of judges for mere political reasons.

Mr. Littlefield moved to table the first three articles, which charged Judge Swayne with non-residence in his district. They were defeated, 135 to 152.

Mr. Palmer at once moved the adoption of articles 1, 2 and 3, and Littlefield demanded the yeas and nays. The motion was carried, 247 to 29.

The same motion was made with reference to articles 4 and 5, charging Judge Swayne with non-residence in his district. They were defeated, 135 to 152.

WEE ARE POISONED CANDY AND HUSBAND DISAPPEARS

Mrs. George Lewis is lying at St. Francis hospital at the point of death, as the result of eating poisoned candy, which was left at her home in her absence yesterday afternoon.

George Lewis, her husband, has mysteriously disappeared and from what could be learned from Mrs. Lewis's physician while the doctors were working with her, the police are strongly of the opinion that Lewis placed the candy on the table with the deliberate purpose of poisoning his wife.

Lewis arose in the city yesterday morning. The police went to his room during business hours, but found his bicycle standing outside. When she regained her consciousness Mrs. Lewis told those about her that she had been alone yesterday, and did not return until 6 o'clock. When she entered her home she found a box of candy on the table. Believing that her husband had left it for her, she ate a piece of the candy. Shortly afterward she was taken violently ill and realized that she had been poisoned. She then called for help, and finally reached a neighbor's house, where she fainted. She was then taken to the hospital.

Gives a Clew.

Mrs. Lewis is not expected to live, during intervals between her extreme suffering she said to the doctors and to the nurses who have been with her. According to Dr. Hanford, she stated that she had been alone all yesterday, and did not return until 6 o'clock. When she regained her consciousness Mrs. Lewis said those were the words she used. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have been living at No. 1 South Cascade avenue, but a few days ago they moved to the store at No. 1 South Cascade avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis have been in the store but a short time. A small bag of candy was on the table. Believing that her husband had left it for her, she took one piece and ate it. Shortly afterward she was taken violently ill and realized that she had been poisoned. She then called for help, and finally reached a neighbor's house, where she fainted. She was then taken to the hospital.

Husband Wanted Property.

Mrs. Lewis also told the doctors that she owned some property and that Lewis had tried to get her to deed the property to him, but she refused. The police have learned that Lewis has been corresponding with a woman in New Mexico for some time and that he has been receiving letters from her.

The police are thoroughly convinced that Lewis attempted to murder his wife and left the city. Mrs. Lewis's statement that she had not been out of the house during the day is borne out by the officers' search of the premises.

Detectives Dolan and Shiel, detailed this week to assist Chief Delaney in the work of hunting for Lewis, received orders from Captain Fair, who is acting chief of police. The two detectives were sent to the jail offices in the county building, and after consulting for a few minutes with Chief Delaney, one of them left the building. The police are confident that they will soon have Lewis in custody.

Metallic Poison.

The contents of the stomach which were pumped up by the doctors together with the bag of candy which was found by the officers on the table at Mrs. Lewis's home were turned over to Dr. Charles Martin for analysis, but he had not completed his work last night. While saying nothing definite as to his opinion the candy was impregnated with either arsenic or strychnine. He took another week's work.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis were not very well known in this city. It is understood that they have been here about three months. Lewis's business was that of running a soda fountain. He was formerly in business at No. 1 South Cascade avenue. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis boarded in the rear of the store

That bill already has been considered by the president, Attorney General Moody, Secretary [illegible] and Morton, and by members of both the house of representatives and the senate.

She had the gasoline in a large bottle and was working on the kitchen table. The room became filled with gas which lighted from the range. The concussion from the explosion closed the door so that it was five minutes before Mrs. Krueger could secure aid from the house to get assistance.

She is in a serious condition, the attending physicians say, from the combustion of the gas and the burns she received. The damage to the room will amount to about $50.

[illegible] PUEBLO CONTESTANT ASKS THAT BOXES BE OPENED

Special to the Gazette.

DENVER, Jan. 18.—Attorney L. E. Rizer, representing John Martin, of Pueblo, who is contesting the right of Timothy G. McCarthy to seat the senate, and whose case is likely before the senate committee on privileges and elections, has asked that the ballot box in precinct 50 at Pueblo be produced by the committee and opened. The box was sent for this morning and the contest will be disposed of this afternoon or tonight.

C. L. Porterfield, former senator, in a deposition, said that he knew of 60 votes being cast in precinct 50 on fraudulent registration. Attorney Rizer said that he would be willing to rest the whole case on the fraud which could be shown in the ballot box from the precinct in question. He alleges that three judges in that precinct have been indicted for making false returns. It is not at all probable that Senator McCarthy will be unseated.

The Bisbee Citizen's contest will probably come before the senate committee on privileges and elections tonight or tomorrow. There is some doubt, however, whether Bisbee will appear against Bisbee and the contest may be dropped. Bisbee will doubtless retain its seat in the senate in any event as the contest is not taken seriously by either Democrats or Republicans.

M. A. Lewis, Republican senator from Fremont county, will continue to hold his seat in the senate for the reason that Frank J. Moore, Democrat the contestee, has let the suit go by default.

The case was brought up yesterday, Mr. Moore failing to appear in his own behalf.

The senate committee on privileges and elections this morning reported in favor of Senator Lewis. The report was adopted and a resolution was passed declaring Senator Lewis duly elected. The senate then adjourned till 2 o'clock.

[illegible] ROWBERT IN NEW MOVE ON THE STOCK EXCHANGE

Presicent of Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek Will Close Sale---Vanderbilts and Rock Island Are Latest Reputed Purchasers of the Local Railway.

Special to the Gazette.

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—Irving Howbert, of Colorado Springs, Colo., president of the Colorado Springs and Cripple Creek District railroad, arrived in New York at 9:30 this morning and went at once to the Waldorf-Astoria, where he will remain during his stay here.

It is understood that Mr. Howbert came east to close up a deal for the sale of the road, which he is president although he declines to discuss the matter in any way or to say anything regarding his visit to New York further than that he is here on business. Mr. Howbert came in over the Lake Shore and New York Central.

Closely Kept.

If there is anything definitely known here in regard to the identity of the [illegible] purchasers of the Short Line, the fact is kept very closely. Well-informed Wall street interests profess to know nothing of the matter at all, and in railroad circles little can be learned, while officials of the Rock Island [illegible] whatever of the matter.

However, there is a subtle [illegible] pounds in certain circles that the Vanderbilts are the probable purchasers, and that the purchase of the Cripple Creek road is only a minor matter in the gigantic deal which their interests have on foot. The report is that the interests which control the New York Central, the Lake Shore, the Chicago & Northwestern and other great railroad systems are now planning the acquisition of the Rock Island and the Colorado Midland, as well as the Short Line, with a view to a [illegible] continental line. It is said that the Vanderbilt interests have been buying the Rock Island control for several months, and that this big system, as well as the Midland and Short Line, will pass into their hands within a short time.

Rock Island.

This probably accounts for the persistent reports that the Cripple Creek road is bought by the R. I. & G. [illegible] land. The Colorado & Southern has also been mentioned in connection with the deal.

While this report gained currency this morning, there were many who gave no credence to it, claiming that the Vanderbilts have no use for the Cripple Creek road whatever, and certainly none for the Short Line.

DENVER, Jan. 18.—The Denver News this morning says:

E. T. Jeffery, president and general manager of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad, and a leader in the Rock Island, is the buyer of the Colorado Springs & Cripple Creek District railway.

This announcement is made in unimpeachable quarters. It comes from a man who has been closely connected with the deal under its [illegible] The formal announcement to the public will come in a few days from New York, where President Irving Howbert, of the Short Line, is now putting the finishing touches to the deal.

The price paid for the controlling interest was $1,000,000, a mere song compared to the value of the road. Outstanding bonds of $2,000,000, which [illegible] stock to the value of $4,000,000 consolidated or second-mortgage bonds to the value of $1,400,000, the latter carrying no stock.

Control by the Rock Island interests or the St. Louis & San Francisco as a part of the Rock Island system was not obtained without strong opposition from some of the heavy stockholders in the Short Line. The battle [illegible] waged for months. This week, however, the minority interests saw that the end was at hand and acquiesced to the deal.

It is conceded in railroad circles throughout the country that the Rock Island's purchase of the Short Line will be followed in a short time by the announcement that the Colorado & Southern has passed into the control of the Rock Island.

The Southern now owns jointly with the Rio Grande the Colorado Midland. With the Midland, the Rock Island, in connection with the Southern, would have a direct line, either through Denver or Colorado Springs, from Chicago to Grand Junction. From western Colorado a line of road to the coast has long been projected by the Rock Island to connect with the Union Pacific and the Goulds.

In connection with the Southern, the Short Line will prove a great feeder, both as freight and passenger traffic, for the entire Rock Island system.

It is recalled that when President H. L. Winsheil, E. F. Lough, who was then chairman of the board of directors, and H. T. Miller, general manager of the Rock Island, were in Colorado last September, they spent several days in going over the line of the Colorado & Southern. They made their headquarters in Denver, while they took side trips to Boulder, Fort Collins and other points in the northern territory of the Colorado & Southern, and then came to Colorado Springs. They arrived here on Friday, but instead of interesting in the Pike's Peak region, they immediately went on a side trip over the Colorado & Southern down as far as Trinidad and returning, spent a part of Saturday in Pueblo and then came back to this city. The care with which they inspected the line of the Colorado & Southern was significant at the time, and it is now generally conceded in railroad circles that the Rock Island is after the Colorado & Southern. Some go so far as to say that the Rock Island has already secured an option on the Colorado & Southern, but on account of the big bond issue

[illegible] ROBBED IN NEW YORK STAGE IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

NEW YORK, Jan. 18.—In New York's most fashionable thoroughfare at [illegible] o'clock in the morning, a woman was held up and robbed of seventy-[illegible] dollars at the point of a revolver pressed against her temple, of which that only outcry meant instant death.

So quietly was the whole affair conducted that not even the driver of the Fifth avenue stage, in which the woman was robbed, was aware that anything out of the ordinary had occurred.

The latest development in the progress of lawlessness in New York occurred two weeks ago today, but is now for the first time made known. No report was made to the police for to the management of the Fifth Avenue Coach company, as the loss of [illegible] trivial to the woman who was robbed the shock to her [illegible] was so great that her only thought has been to shield herself from publicity, which would still further have taxed her nervous system.

A friend of the woman who was robbed says that she boarded a Fifth avenue stage after having drawn $75 from the [illegible] bank, at Fifth avenue and Fifty-ninth street. She afterward [illegible] several well-dressed men enter the stage close behind her, but she did not [illegible] attention to him at the time.

The stage was well filled with women [illegible] all of whom, with the exception of herself, alighted after crossing Twenty-third street.

As soon as she and the man were alone in the stage he stepped across and pressed a revolver against her temple.

"I don't [illegible] you have in that purse," he said, at the same time taking it from her hand.

In another minute he was backing to the entrance to the stage, all the time covering her [illegible] with his revolver.

The latter [illegible] so that she could [illegible] nature, to say nothing of making an outcry, and her only thought was to get home as quickly as possible. Without notifying the driver of the [illegible] what had occurred she left the stage at the next corner, took a carriage which was passing, and was driven directly to her home.

The Laxative Remedy of known quality and excellence, containing nothing of an objectionable or injurious character.

There are two classes of purchasers: those who are informed as to the quality of what they buy and the reasons for the excellence of articles of exceptional merit, and who do not lack courage to go elsewhere when a dealer offers an imitation of any well known article; but, unfortunately, there are some people who do not know, and who allow themselves to be imposed upon. They cannot expect its beneficial effects if they do not get the genuine remedy.

To the credit of the druggists of the United States be it said that nearly all of them value their reputation for professional integrity and the good-will of their customers too highly to offer imitations of the

THE CONTEST.

IT WAS to be expected that the Democrats in the legislature would do everything in their power to delay the election investigation, so their action on Tuesday and Wednesday did not surprise anybody. It is definitely settled now that their policy is to be one of obstruction. They will try in every way possible to place obstacles in the path; they will object and quibble and equivocate whenever a chance presents itself. Everything proposed by the Republicans is to be denounced and instead of joining with the majority in an honest effort to learn the truth they will seek to shove off the inevitable.

Such a policy will not win a particle of sympathy for the Adams cause, either in Colorado or elsewhere; on the contrary it will simply disgust those who are tired of the seemingly interminable wrangling and approve the efforts of the Republicans to expedite the investigation to the greatest extent possible. The plan adopted, that of submitting the contest to a committee of twenty-seven members, divided into nine subcommittees of three members each, is thoroughly businesslike, for it will facilitate the work and permit the discharge of a vast amount of detail that would otherwise be impracticable. But of course this was not satisfactory to the Democrats. Nothing pertaining to the contest is. They like the idea that Alva Adams is now seated and that nothing should be done to disturb him. They are content to let well enough alone. They would like to forget that such things as frauds were ever committed, and if an investigation is to be made do everything possible to prevent facts bearing to their guilt being uncovered.

But this is not the purpose of the investigation. It is evident to everybody that a great wrong has been committed, and the Republican majority in the legislature intends to sift the facts thoroughly and find out for itself the extent of the outrage. Nobody disputes the Democratic frauds in Denver and elsewhere, the only question is as to their number. If there were not enough to change the result Alva Adams will remain Governor of Colorado; but if as everything indicates the Adams majority is manufactured and the Tower in the legislative minority, the Big Mitt and the Democratic papers will save him from a disgraceful and obscure retirement.

A SHORT LINE TIP.

WHO HAS bought the Short Line?

There seem to be a number of men people who know the correct answer at their command, but no definite information on the sale of Ann and the identity of the Short Cutter exists. One well-placed person is positive it is the Rock Island; another knows a man who heard a man say it was a Vanderbilt deal, and still another thinks it was Edwin Hawley. But of course all of them are wrong.

The Gazette has some inside information on the subject which it is willing to tip off to its readers at no advance in the regular price of the paper. In fact there are two tips. Each one correct. Take your choice.

First: The Short Line has been purchased by Mr. Chadwick to be presented to Tom Lawson as a slight token of her esteem for a distinguished fellow financier. Payment was made in a package of brown paper said to contain fifteen million dollars ($15,000,000), which is now on deposit at the Security National bank in this city. Mrs. Chadwick insisted however that the package must not be opened until after her death, and of course her wishes will be respected.

Second: The Short Line has been bought by General Kuropatkin and will immediately be torn up and transported to the Far East, where it will be laid across the Japan Sea. This will enable the General to march directly to Tokio and dictate peace without the inconvenience of waiting for the Japanese navy to rust to pieces of old age and thus allow him command of the sea.

These tips are valuable; play them and you win. But understand, they are given absolutely without charge. Any person who is compelled by a newsboy to pay an advanced price for this paper on account of the information herein contained will please report the outrage at the business office.

MORE MEMBERS NEEDED.

COLORADO SPRINGS has reached its present position as the most famous resort in the West largely through the active boosting of its people, acting individually and in organizations. Of the latter the oldest and most useful is the Chamber of Commerce, which, since its formation, has been instrumental in bringing here hundreds of permanent residents and untold thousands of visitors. It has secured conventions, induced the railroads to make low rates from Eastern points, advertised Colorado Springs throughout the length and breadth of the land and in many other ways striven to advance the city's interests.

This work has been carried on in the face of great difficulties, for it costs a great deal of money and the funds available have always been limited to the income from memberships, the donations of the city government and private subscriptions, and the latter, while highly appreciated and of much benefit, have never been large. But the results have well repaid all of the expenditure of money and effort. The work done in 1904 was particularly effective and the directors feel encouraged to attempt more extensive operations for the coming year. The benefits to be derived from continuous systematic advertising, especially in medical journals and pamphlets are almost unlimited, a fact that all those in position to know are willing to admit. Every resident of Colorado Springs, every one who profits by the work done by the Chamber of Commerce, the increase in tourist travel and the building here of sanitariums, public buildings, business houses, residences, etc., should join the Chamber of Commerce. The dues are small, only $10 a year, and the membership list should be increased by the united efforts of a great many rather than by those of a few. Those men who are now supporting the Chamber of Commerce should not be expected or permitted to carry on the work alone. The dues belong to each of the 500 business men in the city and should be paid by them.

Further information will be cheerfully given by any member of Commerce, and every man or woman and every firm or corporation that has the interests of Colorado Springs at heart should join and share in the work of boosting in every practical way. It will cost no more time and very little money from the individual, but the contributions of a great many will accomplish wonders. Colorado Springs has every possible advantage of climate, scenery, location, schools, churches, transportation and a high class of citizenship. If we let many permanent residents, more conventions, more tourists leave, especially in winter, by worrying together all of these things can be secured and the best way to work in order to do so is to support the Chamber of Commerce.

A distinguished alienist who has studied the case of Mrs. Chadwick pronounces the lady "not technically insane, but morally instinctively criminal." This is a very polite way of saying that she is a crook and ought to get all that's coming to her.

If Alva Adams honestly believes that he was honestly elected Governor of Colorado he would be simply tickled to death at the chance of having the whole business investigated and the stain removed from his escutcheon.

A Chicago paper has discovered that the man who ran for the Presidency on the Liberal party's ticket has fall has "secured a position" as janitor. What was the Liberal party and who was its candidate?

Rudyard Kipling has gone to South Africa for the benefit of his lungs. A later account, however, has Grover Cleveland with a sore throat.

If Mr. Bryan is really sincere in his desire to be governed in 1908 he should begin choosing the servants of Mrs. Chadwick.

Special to the Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Jan. 19.—Search for bonanza ore in depth is to be made at the Home lode on the Ironclad Gold Mining company, situated west of the W. P.
